Updates to Officiating

2025

Updates to Officiating

- ❑ New Learning Management System, with new and updated training courses
- ❑ Simplified accreditation and re-accreditation processes

Getting started is easy!

1. Enquire about volunteering as an official at your local club.
2. Complete an e-learning course, or attend one of our face-to-face courses.
3. Continue to build your skills and knowledge with hands-on experience.

NEW Learning Management System (LMS)

The screenshot shows the Australian Sailing LMS dashboard. At the top is a blue header with the 'Australian Sailing' logo and navigation links: Home, Record of Learning, Find Learning, and Reports. Below the header, the user is logged in as 'Ian'. The dashboard is divided into several sections:

- Welcome Ian!
- My certificates: A table showing completed certificates.
- Coaches & Instructors: A card with a photo of an instructor and a link to access e-learning.
- Race Officials: A card with a photo of a boat and a link to access e-learning.
- Current Learning: A section with three cards for 'ASAPD - Disability', 'Community Coaching', and 'Community Coaching', each showing a 0% progress bar.

Certificate	Completed date
Sailing Instructor & Coach General Principles	7 Feb 2025
Introduction to Safety & Risk Management Certificate	25 Oct 2024
Essential skills course certificate	13 Oct 2023

- ❑ Modern interface – 32 courses across Instructor, Coach, Official and Club/Class Management roles).
- ❑ Modular learning – no duplicate courses across multiple qualifications).
- ❑ Access to Australian Sports Commission & Sport Integrity Australia resources

NEW Learning Management System (LMS)

- ❑ Seamless Single Sign-On via Australian Sailing profile.
- ❑ Certificates automatically on individual profile within 24 hours.

eLearning Courses for Officials

Australian Sailing Courses

Race Officer - Mark Layer	Courses

Update to Club Race Officer Accreditation

❑ New course: “Race Officer – Introduction”

- e-learning now covers required knowledge for a club-level RO
- Automatic RPL for existing ‘Club Race Officers’

❑ Grandfathered Club ROs expired 30 June 2025

- To keep going as before → don’t need to do anything
- To refresh or expand knowledge → do e-learning
- To officiate at higher level events → Regional or National RO

❑ Benefits of e-learning

- Role-specific
- Short, free, always available
- Learners can pick and choose to suit themselves

Re-accreditation: Entry level courses

For officials holding one of our entry-level accreditations, re-accreditation is no longer required. This covers the following accreditations:

- ☐ Club Equipment Auditor
- ☐ Protest Committee Member
- ☐ Race Officer – Mark Layer
- ☐ Race Officer – Committee & Finish Boat
- ☐ Race Officer – Introduction

Re-accreditation: Other courses

All other officials now have more ways to re-accredit – they can re-accredit by doing any one of the following three things:

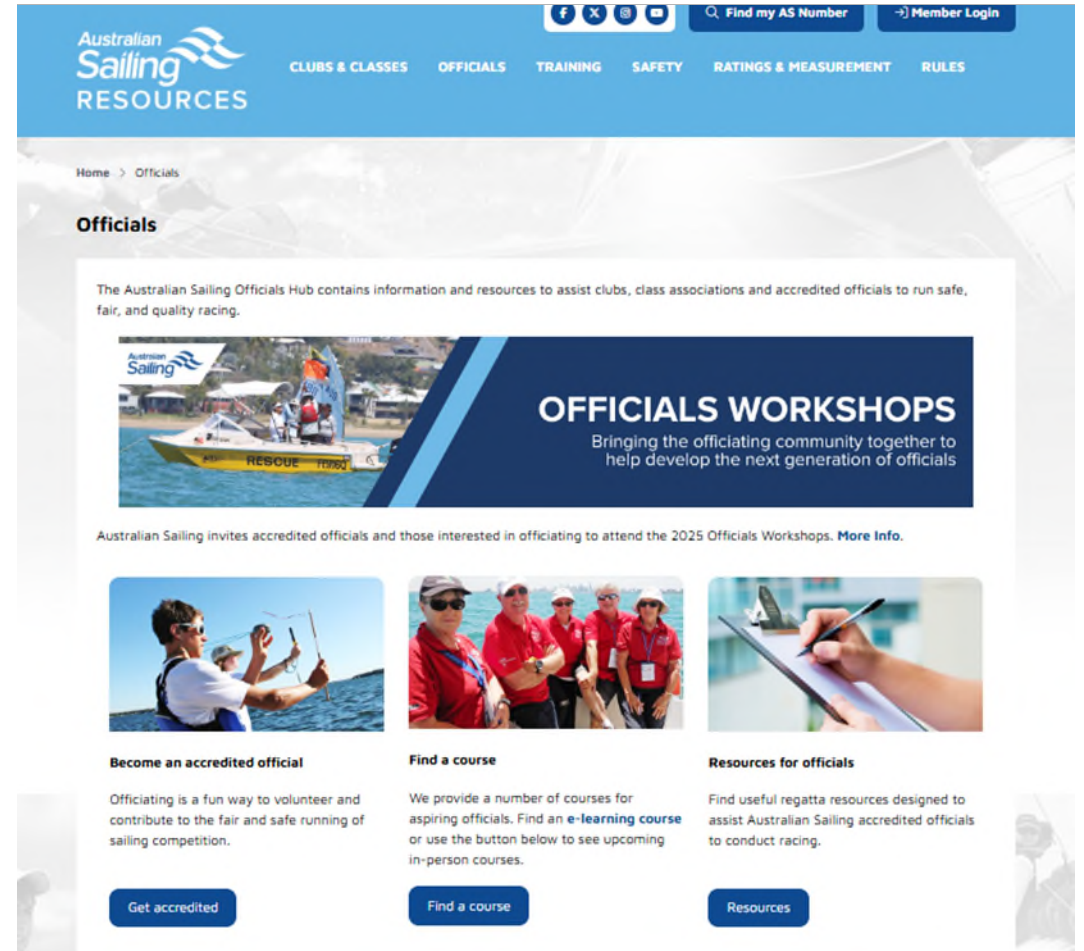

- ☐ Submitting an Event Log of their experience over the last four years (meeting certain criteria), or
- ☐ Obtaining a Practical Assessment from another accredited official, or
- ☐ Attending (or presenting) an Australian Sailing course in their discipline.

This upgrade is all about adding options – no re-accreditation options have been removed for any discipline.

VOLUNTEERS

Like all community based clubs, MHYC relies upon a large group of volunteers to conduct its sporting and social program.

The roles for volunteers at a sailing club are numerous and diverse, suiting people with a wide range of skills and interests.

MHYC conducts a busy program of club racing and regattas through the year (about 700 races by division) and volunteers are sought for both on-water and onshore roles. A Competitors Volunteer Scheme operates which provides 1 or 2 crew from competing yachts to help support the race management team. The club also supports volunteers with accredited and non-accredited training.

Middle Harbour's Race Management Team have a proud history of providing club members and visitors with some of the best racing in and off shore of Sydney Harbour.

Every week Middle Harbour requires Volunteers to assist with running racing for our Members. Tasks include:

- Mark Laying
- Recorders / Scribes
- Flag operations
- Powerboat operators
- Race Officers

Rain, hail, or shine, the Middle Harbour Team provides its Members and visitors with superb racing courses. For additional information or to register your interest in volunteering at MHYC, phone 8969 3103 or email sailing@mhyc.com.au, no experience is required just the will to learn and enjoy yourself on Sydney Harbour.
